Exercise Proud Manta 12 (POMA 12), which included participating ships and aircraft from nine NATO nations, was held from 14 to 26 February 2012 off the coast of Sicily.□

POMA 12 included major scientific tests during the exercise. Scientists from the NATO Undersea Research Centre (now CMRE) tested technologies and software that have been developed at the Centre to study detection and tracking of objects in the marine environment using sonar.
